

NEW REGULATIONS FOR THE POLICE

The new rules and regulations for the guidance of the police were distributed to the force Saturday. Deputy Sheriff Rawlins met the afternoon relief at noon in the dormitory and explained to them that they are to study the rules thoroughly and an examination on the same will be held every six months. Suspension for two weeks without pay is the penalty for not being up in them.

For the benefit of the Hawaiian members who are not proficient in English, a Hawaiian translation will be made. The deputy will be available three times a week from 5 to 6 o'clock to explain any sections of the rules which the men may not understand. The effort of the high sheriff and the deputy will be to place the entire force on a metropolitan basis.

Another feature will be that when a man comes off duty he will fill out a blank in which he is to state what, if any, arrests he made, or whether he witnessed any accidents or sent any one to the hospital. In short, he is to report anything unusual that may occur along his beat.

The confetti masquerade ball is to take place on Wednesday evening, Feb. 22, at Progress hall, and prospective dancers are looking for costumes with which to carry off the prizes. Solomon's quintette club will furnish the music. The committee on arrangements have spared no expense toward making this dance the event of the new year, and will endeavor to see that everybody has a good time.

The prizes will be awarded by a committee selected from the spectators on the night of the dance, to the best dressed lady, the best dressed gentleman, and also to the most original characters of both sexes. A special prize will be given to the one who first picks out a certain unknown person to be named on the night of the dance, and the only stipulation is that this person is picked out before the dancers unmask.

The music starts at 8:45 sharp and the unmasking takes place at 10 o'clock.

Kau Goes Dry.

The following items in the Kau Weekly seem half revealing, half concealing a phase of the liquor question:

"What will you have, Pat?"
"Faith and I'll take a little of that Naalehu wather yez hoy in that black bottle."

"The Pakes are wearing an expansive smile nowadays. The closing of the only licensed place in the district is given them a chance to make good money selling poor booze."

"Kau is pretty dry nowadays, and on that account the Kau Wine Co. has been shut up for lack of water."

A two-and-a-half day coaching trip around Oahu is planned to start from Honolulu on Wednesday at noon via the Pali. Present indications are that at least nine persons will make up the party, although more may yet be accommodated. The first stop will be at Waialeale at night. The Promotion Committee's entertainment for tourists in the form of a luau followed by Hawaiian dancing, given on the premises of Mrs. Emma Defries on Saturday night, was largely attended, all the hotels contributing guests. The strangers were treated to a peep into the imu where the pig, fish and potatoes were cooked. The tables were decorated with Hawaiian delicacies and the luau was thoroughly enjoyed. Solomon's quintette club played during the luau. Afterward four dancing girls gave the hula steps to the accompaniment of gourd tapping.
